Northwestern Polytechnic acknowledges that our campuses are located on Treaty 8 territory, the ancestral and present-day home to many diverse First Nations, Metis, and Inuit people. We are grateful to work, live and learn on the traditional territory of Duncan's First Nation, Horse Lake First Nation and Sturgeon Lake Cree Nation, who are the original caretakers of this land.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES:

Ultimately, you are responsible for your learning and performance in this course. Your grades are posted to myClass, so please be sure you are tracking them there. If you believe there is an error, please let your instructor know.

Submission, Late Policies, & Issues of Intellectual Concern:

- Professional communication and meeting deadlines are important skills. Complete your assignments on time!
- Because graded work is completed during class, late submissions are not normally accepted. Missed assessments are addressed under the attendance policy below.
- Incomplete in-class work may receive a grade of 0 unless an approved accommodation or documented exceptional circumstance applies. Please contact me as soon as possible if a serious situation affects your participation.
- If questions arise about the authorship or creation of submitted work, students may be asked to discuss or explain their work. Any academic integrity concerns will be addressed in accordance with NWP's Student Rights and Responsibilities Policy and Academic Misconduct Procedure.

STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT:

Academic Misconduct will not be tolerated. For a more precise definition of academic misconduct and its consequences, refer to the Student Rights and Responsibilities policy available <https://www.nwpolytech.ca/about/polytechnic-leadership/policies-directory>.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

Attendance:

Because quizzes, written applications, and many learning activities take place during class time, regular attendance is important. The lowest quiz and two lowest activity grades are excluded to provide flexibility for occasional absences. Missed in-class assessments ordinarily cannot be made up except in accordance with approved accommodations or documented exceptional circumstances. If you need to leave early, please let me know before class whenever possible.

Devices:

To support attention and meaningful discussion, phones should remain put away during lectures and discussions unless they are required for a class activity or an emergency. Laptops and tablets may be used for course-related notes and materials but should be closed or set aside when requested. Devices may be used for Mentimeter, Google Forms, myClass quizzes, and other learning activities. Approved accommodations will always be respected. Students who do not meaningfully complete an in-class activity may receive an incomplete grade for that activity.

This course will make extensive use of our course website (myClass) to support your learning. You are expected to keep current with the content of the site, and I advise you to log on often.

Professional Conduct:

- Please be aware that I respect that everyone's time is valuable, and I ask that you afford me and your classmates the same courtesy.
- Instead of preoccupying your mind with questions such as, "How do I get an 'A'?", ask yourself, "How can I work to expand my knowledge, perspective, and outlook on the real world?"
- Please only use your NWP email account to contact me to avoid having your message blocked by spam filters.
- Always include "SO1000" (with your section - B2) in the subject line to help me respond efficiently.
- Finally, please practice writing emails formally. For example, use a simple greeting, avoid slang or abbreviations, and always sign off with your name.

Use of AI-Generated Content:

Unless an assessment's instructions state otherwise, you are expected to complete course work using your own understanding and effort. AI tools such as ChatGPT or Gemini may be used only for limited support, including brainstorming, outlining, or basic grammar checking, not to generate full answers or analysis. Submitted work must reflect your own thinking, interpretation, and engagement with course material. Any AI use must be clearly acknowledged. Submitting primarily AI-generated work without permission may be treated as academic misconduct. If you are unsure whether a use is permitted, ask me first.
