Description:

This printmaking studio course is designed to give students a foundation in the areas of intaglio and lithography processes. Emphasis will be placed on the principles and techniques of intaglio and lithography printmaking, while simultaneously exploring expressive uses of the printmaking media.

Objectives:

1. To introduce intaglio and lithography printmaking.
2. To learn basic technical aspects of working in these media.
3. To develop aesthetic appreciation of print media.
4. To understand the technical vocabulary of printmaking.
5. To acquire the confidence to apply these techniques to artistic expression of your ideas.
6. To expose the student to the history of each printmaking medium and to show the trends of contemporary printmakers.
7. To emphasize to the student their dual role of artist and printer.

Course Requirements:

1. Regular attendance is necessary. After two unexcused absences marks will be deducted.
2. In order to complete required work, all students are encouraged to use the printmaking studio facilities beyond lab periods.
3. All students are to participate and present work during critiques.
4. Students will be marked on shop cleanliness and respect for materials and equipment.
5. Completion of a sufficient body of work to show competence in handling the various media.

Class Structure:

Classes will be devoted to:

- printmaking editioning and proofing
- critiques and discussions on printmaking assignments
- demonstration and slide presentations

Reference Texts:

Ross, John, Romano, Clare and Ross, Tim. The Complete Printmaker

Saff, Donald and Sacilotto, Deli. Printmaking: History and Process.

Semenoff, Nik. A Lithographer's Notebook

Assessment:

There will be no midterm or final examinations. Instead, portfolios are to be submitted. The final portfolio must include your journal and all work completed during the semester.

- * Final portfolio and journal must be submitted during last class after group critique.

Weight of Assessment:

Technical integrity of editions	40%
Aesthetic quality of work	25%
Improvement	10%
Involvement in class critiques	10%
Cleanliness and respect for materials and equipment	10%
Journals	5%

- * Projects will be assigned and expected on the date required. Failure to finish projects on time for class critiques will affect student's final evaluation.

Note:

More than 10% absenteeism may constitute a failure except for medical or extenuating circumstances in which case a doctor's letter will be required.
