Calendar Description:	This course will examine the art of the second half of the nineteenth century. The primary focus will be on the developments which led to the emergence of the modernist trends in paintings which formed the foundation for twentieth century art. Throughout the course attention will be paid to the social and cultural context in which the art evolved. Discussion of sculpture and architecture will be included as time permits.
Course Objectives:	Rather than provide an accumulation of facts for memorization, it is the objective of this course to facilitate the students' development of an understanding of the vital changes that occurred in the visual arts during the later half of the 19th century which led to the art of the 20th century
