STUDY & WEB RESOURCES:

A study guide is included in the text. In addition, the website for the course (keyed to the text) contains some excellent resources including chapter summaries, on-line quizzes, and links. Students are encouraged to use these materials. The web address is www.blackboard.gprc.ab.ca

EXAMS AND QUIZZES ON-LINE:

The website for the course contains the unit tests (chapter tests). Each test is randomly generated from a test bank of variable size. No two students will necessarily write the same unit test. The tests consist uniformly of 20 questions most of which are multiple choice. Tests may only be taken once and require you to log in to the website under your own name and password. Grading is immediate and will appear in your on-line gradebook. The tests may be taken at any time and from any location with internet access. Secure and reliable access is recommended and there is no time limitation on how long you spend on the test. Normally, however, students spending more than 45-50 minutes per test are ill-prepared. Once the test has been started, you must complete the entire test. Logging off or losing the internet connection during the test will result in a grade based only on the proportion of the test that has been completed divided by 20. Hence, if you complete 10 questions and decide to log off for any reason, your grade will, at most, be $10/20 = 25\%$ assuming all 10 questions completed were correct.

In preparation for the tests, two resources are available. These are the study guide in the textbook (the answer key is on-line on the publisher's website) and a self-test or quiz that consists of 10 randomly generated questions from the same test bank that generates the actual tests. The quiz may be attempted up to 3 times prior to the test itself being attempted. You will be locked out of the quiz after your third attempt. Quiz grades are NOT recorded and should be seen as a rough guide as to your level of preparedness for the unit tests.

The final and midterm exams will consist of define explain and graph questions as well as some mathematical types of questions. Marks will be deducted for illegible writing or grammatical error.

Exams will be scheduled in location and date by GPRC student services.

The instructor reserves the right to use electronic plagiarism detection services.
