

ENGLISH 0135 COURSE OUTLINE
Winter Semester, January, 1996
M, W, F - 9:00-9:50 a.m.

ACADEMIC UPGRADING DEPARTMENT
GRANDE PRAIRIE REGIONAL COLLEGE

INSTRUCTOR: Doris Wind
Office: C304 Phone: 539-2902

TEXTS: Building English Skills, McDougal, Littell (book is provided)

Who Has Seen the Wind, W. O. Mitchell

PREREQUISITE: EN 120, EN 125, or acceptable placement test score.

COREQUISITE: EN 0135AS1 which will consist of LL0133 (Sentence Skills), LL0136 (Mechanics in Writing) and LL0139 (Comprehension)

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The course is designed for students who need a senior high school general diploma in English. This course is an alternative to EN 0130 for those students who do not require an advanced high school diploma. The emphasis is on the practical use of English. There is a literature component but most of the course deals with improving written and oral communication. Some business writing is included.

CONTENT:

Research and Communication

◆ Effective Communication

- listening
- speaking
- working in groups
- recognizing propaganda techniques
- recognizing fallacies

◆ Library Research

- finding information
- evaluating information
- summarizing information
- integrating information

◆ Presenting Information Orally

- debating
- public speaking

ENGLISH 0135 COURSE OUTLINE
Winter Semester, January, 1996
M, W, F - 9:00-9:50 a.m.

ACADEMIC UPGRADING DEPARTMENT
GRANDE PRAIRIE REGIONAL COLLEGE

INSTRUCTOR: Doris Wlad
Office: C304 Phone: 539-2902

TEXTS: Building English Skills, McDougal, Littell (book is provided)

Who Has Seen the Wind, W. O. Mitchell

PREREQUISITE: EN 120, EN 125, or acceptable placement test score.

COREQUISITE: EN 0135AS1 which will consist of LL0133 (Sentence Skills), LL0136 (Mechanics in Writing) and LL0139 (Comprehension)

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The course is designed for students who need a senior high school general diploma in English. This course is an alternative to EN 0130 for those students who do not require an advanced high school diploma. The emphasis is on the practical use of English. There is a literature component but most of the course deals with improving written and oral communication. Some business writing is included.

CONTENT:

Research and Communication

♦ Effective Communication

- listening
- speaking
- working in groups
- recognizing propaganda techniques
- recognizing fallacies

♦ Library Research

- finding information
- evaluating information
- summarizing information
- integrating information

♦ Presenting Information Orally

- debating
- public speaking