CREDIT/CONTACT HOURS: 2 credit (30 hrs)

DELIVERY MODE(S): Classes will be delivered face to face with Moodle as a supplementary space. There will be lecture, small group work, class discussions, and a variety of other activities designed to promote active learning of the course content.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

This course will provide students with:

- Awareness of and skills in interpersonal communication
- Foundations for self-understanding and personal growth, as well as the understanding that these are the elements upon which interpersonal communication skills are built.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Upon completion of this course learners will effectively:

1. Explain why human communication is important and describe the characteristics that define interpersonal communication.
2. Understand the principles that underlie interpersonal communication and identify the components of effective interpersonal communications.
3. Understand the development of self-concept and self-esteem and the role that they play in interpersonal communication.
4. Identify steps to improve self-concept.
5. Gain a clearer understanding of the relationship between perception and communication and develop skills to understand others more effectively
6. Understand characteristics of our spoken language and apply strategies that are designed to make verbal communication more effective.
7. Identify types of non-verbal communication and explaining how they affect our interpersonal relationships.
8. Understand the role our culture plays in the expression of emotions and how emotions impact interpersonal communication.
9. Identify barriers to effective listening and use the skills of active listening to promote interpersonal communications.
