

DEPARTMENT OF ARTS AND EDUCATION
COURSE OUTLINE – FALL 2016
PY3470 (A2) PSYCHOLOGY OF GENDER – 3 (3-0-0) 45 Hours

INSTRUCTOR: Cheryl Bereziuk PHONE: 780 539 2739
OFFICE: C301 E-MAIL: CBereziuk@gprc.ab.ca
OFFICE HOURS: Tuesday and Thursdays 2:30 - 4 or by appointment

PREREQUISITE(S)/COREQUISITE: PY 1040. Students transferring to UNBC must also present successful completion of PY 1050 as a prerequisite to this course.

REQUIRED TEXT/RESOURCE MATERIALS: Required: Gender: Psychological Perspectives (6th edition) by Linda Brannon.
Choice of: Missoula: Rape and the Justice System in a College Town by Jon Krakauer or I am Malala by Malala Yousafzai.

CALENDAR DESCRIPTION: This course will involve a balanced coverage and critical analysis of both male and female issues. Material will be drawn from empirical research and conceptual discussions surrounding gender and gender roles. Examples of topics include the impact of stereotypes of masculinity and femininity, and gender in relation to power relations, mental health, intelligence, sexuality, violence, and caregiving. Are men and women really all that different? If so, how significant are the differences? Implications of similarities and differences will be discussed.

CREDIT/CONTACT HOURS: 3 credits / 3 hours per week

DELIVERY MODE: The course work includes lectures, class discussions, in-class group and individual work.

COURSE OBJECTIVES: Students will be taught the history and current research methods into gender studies as well as the contemporary theories of gender identity and development. The sex/gender differences into various psychological processes such as intelligence, emotion and sexuality will also be explored. Other topics that will be covered will be the effects gender has on one's experiences in school, at work, and on one's physical and psychological well-being.

LEARNING OUTCOMES: As a result of taking this course students will have an appreciation of the complexity of factors (biological, social and psychological) that contribute to their conception of being a gendered person. Students will also be able to identify how being gendered affects their thinking, behaviour and emotions, as well how it influences their health, relationships, school and work lives.

TRANSFERABILITY: GPRC has transfer agreements with the University of Alberta, the University of Calgary, the University of Lethbridge, Athabasca University. Students should check with the receiving institution concerning transferability as all arrangements are subject to change.

*Grades of D or D+ may not be acceptable for transfer to other post-secondary institutions. Students are cautioned that it is their responsibility to contact the receiving institution to ensure transferability.

GRADING CRITERIA: Grades will be assigned on the Letter Grading System.

Any incomplete grades or grade contentions must be done BEFORE the last scheduled lecture (except for the final exam of course). After the last scheduled lecture all grades, as they appear on moodle, will stand. Any grade contentions must be done in writing (word processed) and provide a detailed justification why the grade should be reconsidered with evidence (such as reference to specific page numbers in the textbook).

As per the GPRC Policy on Student Rights and Responsibilities It is the student's responsibility to write tests at the times scheduled by the instructor. If a student has a valid and serious reason for being unable to attend an exam, the instructor must be advised in person before the exam is administered. Failure to notify the instructor of an absence and/or lack of a valid serious reason will result in a grade of 0 with no option to write a deferred exam or make up assignment. Permission to grant a deferred exam is at the discretion of the instructor and is contingent only for serious emergency situations and presented to the instructor in person. Only the most extreme of situations will be granted a deferral if advance permission is not sought from the instructor. Email requests will not be entertained. Multiple requests for deferred exams or assignments are not granted irrespective of reason(s). Deferred exams must be completed and graded before the next scheduled exam or the grade will remain zero.

Exams can consist of multiple-choice, short and long answer questions. Exact details will be given to you later in the term regarding each specific exam structure. Students are not permitted to leave the exam room once the exam has started until the exam has been completed and turned in. All electronic devices are prohibited from use at any time during exams. All exam marks are final. This means you cannot rewrite an exam because of a poor grade and there are no written assignments to make up for a poor exam grade.

The assignment must be word-processed. It is important to save a copy of any written work handed in for credit or grading. Details on the assignment will be given to you on a separate handout at the beginning of the term. Assignments are due on the date set by the instructor at the beginning of class in hardcopy-paper format. Do not print double-sided. The instructor does NOT accept emailed assignments. Unauthorized late assignments will have a 5% per day late penalty applied to the assigned grade (including weekend days). If there is a valid reason for an extension, it must be requested in person prior to the due date although students should be advised that extensions are rarely granted in lieu of the late penalty.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES: As per the GPRC Policy on Student Rights and Responsibilities It is the student's responsibility to arrive on time and remain for the duration of scheduled classes. Regular attendance is critical to success in this course. Should a student be unable to attend a class, it is the student's responsibility to acquire the missed material preferably from a fellow student and to complete the assigned readings. Missed classes will not be considered as a sufficient reason for missing an exam even if the date of the exam was changed during class time. The instructor does not lend out lecture notes.

Learning is an active process that will take effort on your part. Students are expected to read the chapters in advance of lectures, participate in activities and discussions in the classroom, and communicate with the instructor when difficulties are encountered with the course material. Students are responsible for learning all of the assigned chapters, even if all the material has not been covered in lecture, as well as any other topic or video covered during class time.

Students are expected to display a professional attitude and behavior in the classroom including academic honesty, respect for and cooperation with your colleagues and the instructor, attention to colleague's questions and the instructor's response, and a determination to meet deadlines. Students who are unable to meet these expectations will be required to leave the class in the interest of preserving the learning environment for the other students.

The instructor does not allow the use of electronic devices at any time during classes. If you believe you have a valid reason for using a computer or electronic device during class time this must be negotiated with the instructor in advance. All cell phones and electronic devices must be both turned off and put away in purses/briefcases for the duration of class time and you may not ever record any aspect of the lecture nor take photographs of overheads/notes. Any cell phone use or ringing/buzzing during class time will mean you will forfeit your device to the instructor for the remainder of the class.

If you have a disability, please self-identify to the instructor if you require any specialized supports.

Please be sure to familiarize yourself with moodle as all communication with students outside of class and office hours will be done via email to your gprc email account. Be sure to check your college email often or forward messages to your regular email account. Please also be sure to specify exactly which course you are in when contacting the instructor.

STATEMENT ON PLAGIARISM AND CHEATING: Cheating and plagiarism will not be tolerated and there will be penalties. For a more precise definition of plagiarism and its consequences, refer to the Student Conduct section of the College Admission Guide at <http://www.gprc.ab.ca/programs/calendar/>
