Course Description

This practicum consists of fieldwork in an agency providing services to people who have developmental disabilities. The practicum is designed to enable students to apply the theories, principles, and techniques studied in the classroom to the practical setting. Students are also offered the opportunity to further develop their familiarity with the nature and scope of services provided to individuals with developmental disabilities.

Course Format

Students are expected to work approximately 14 hours per week. Actual hours will vary slightly depending on the nature and structure of the agency and the services it provides. Students will be responsible for the implementation of agency services and are not expected to take responsibility for decisions regarding program planning and design. Regular visits by an instructor will be scheduled approximately every two weeks with the student and agency supervisor throughout the practicum.

Classes will be conducted in seminar style. The practicum seminar provides a forum for students to reflect and explore issues related to the field of (re)habilitation, their studies, and their practicum experiences. Students are required to ACTIVELY PARTICIPATE in discussions. Student-led discussions will be incorporated.

Students will be involved in developing an agenda for the seminar session at the beginning of each class meeting. (Examples of agenda items: questions related to clarification of course material/assignment, resolution of difficulties with classes or with field placements, etc.) Students are encouraged to identify other issues, relevant to the field, especially current issues raised by the media.

A portion of each seminar will focus on discussion of practicum experiences. Students are expected to bring comments related to the highlights of their experience, what they learned, and what they need to learn in preparation for their next practicum. Sharing experiences will provide students the opportunity to explore how concepts and skills learned in classes are effectively / appropriately applied to a variety of practical settings.

Progress and challenges with respect to practicum assignments will also be addressed.

Students are reminded that information about the people with whom they work is HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL and as such must not be discussed or repeated outside the seminar.

Course Requirements

1. Mandatory Attendance.

2. Log Book

This assignment allows the student to reflect on the attitudes, skills and knowledge experienced within practicum placement. The logbooks contain activities related to the practicum that need to be completed on a weekly basis. The books are designed so that the weekly section may be removed and submitted. Logbooks are to be submitted to their faculty supervisor (placed in the mailbox in the front office) every Monday.

3. Assignment

Students are required to complete one of the following assignments for credit in this course:

Ecological Inventory

An Ecological Inventory Discrepancy Analysis must be completed in either RP1210, or RP1206. If you do not have a copy of the assignment guidelines, please ask your faculty supervisor for one.

A.B.A. Programming Assignment

An Applied Behavior Analysis program designed to INCREASE a behavior or to TEACH a new skill must be completed in either RP1210 or RP1206. If you do not have a copy of the assignment guidelines, please ask your faculty supervisor for one.

Note:

Students are required to complete both of these assignments in order to graduate. Whichever assignment is not completed during this placement will be required in the spring practicum

Field Placement Evaluation

Agency personnel complete a Practicum Evaluation Form for each student they supervise.

Faculty evaluates students based on observations of strengths and needs in the field and review of field experiences and reflection as per the student's logbook. The extent to which the student uses supervision to maximize learning will be taken into account in the faculty evaluation. Students are expected to be prepared to address specific issues during faculty supervision visits.

Creditation

The Practicum is a credit / no credit course. Successful completion of the practicum requires that

- the student successfully complete ALL required assignments
- evaluation of the student's performance be satisfactorily evaluated by both the agency and the supervising instructor.

Rules and Regulations

1. Attendance is mandatory for both practicum and seminar. Students absent due to illness must notify both the instructor and the agency supervisor PRIOR to the student's expected time of arrival. Students are expected to make personal appointments outside of course time.

Failure to comply with the above will result in unexcused absences. Three unexcused absences may result in course failure.

2. Illness or absence in excess of ten percent of the hours required for the practicum will be expected to be made up.

Absence in excess of 3 hours of seminar class will necessitate the negotiation of a learning contract with the instructor(s). Should the student fail to meet the terms of the contract, credit for this course may not be granted.
