

Moral Equality •••

“Live as if you were to die today. Learn as if you were to live forever.”

St. Isidore of Seville

GRANDE PRAIRIE REGIONAL COLLEGE COMMUNITY REHABILITATION PROGRAM

RP2403 FAMILY SUPPORT

COURSE OUTLINE

FALL, 2002	September 5 to December 6, 2002
CREDIT:	3 credits (45 hours)
CLASS TIME:	Tuesday and Thursday 10:00 a.m. to 11:20 a.m.
CLASS LOCATION:	C316
INSTRUCTOR:	Rita Stonell, B.C.R. Office: H204 Phone: 539-2787 Email: rstonell@gprc.ab.ca
	Office Hours: Monday and Wednesday 1:00 to 3:30 or by appointment (also welcome to just drop in)
PRE-REQUISITES:	RP1100
CO-REQUISITES:	RP2303

Course Description

The purpose of this course is to familiarize the student with the dynamics of the family and the effects that an individual with exceptional needs has on the family. The role of the rehabilitation practitioner in relation to the family and effective strategies for intervention are discussed. This course will assist students develop the knowledge and skills to facilitate family members' focus on their own resources and supporting families to access appropriate community resources when necessary.

Class Format

Classes will consist of lectures, discussions, practical exercises and guest speakers.

Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Describe and explain systems theory and related models (social-ecology, stress, family adjustment and adaptation, social support, lifespan, stage).
1. Identify the effects of a child with a disability on family members and the effect of family members on a child with a disability.
2. Become aware of the characteristics of resilient families - - those that cope successfully despite extraordinary challenges.
3. Demonstrate the ability to interact with families in an ethical, supportive, and professional manner.
5. Apply concepts of family structure, organization, and interaction to their family of origin and to selected case studies.
6. Demonstrate appropriate interaction strategies with family systems.
7. Develop supportive plans, consistent with systems theory, which enhance the effectiveness and successful coping of families.
8. Discuss ethical implications and possible dilemmas when dealing with families of children with disabilities.

Required Text

Seligman, M. & Benjamin Darling, R. (1997). Ordinary families, special children: A systems approach to childhood disability. (2nd. ed.) Guilford Press, New York.

Please bring text to every class.

Related Readings

Occasionally the text will be supplemented by an assigned reading from another source. These readings are listed in the class schedule and will be found on reserve in the library.

Evaluation

Marks will be assigned for this course as follows:

Participation	5%	Mid-term Exam	25%
Learning Journal	15%	Final Exam	30%
Project	25%

Grades

9	90-100%
8	80-89%
7	72-79%
6	65-71%
5	57-64%
4	50-64%
3	45-49%
2	26-44%
1	0-25%

NOTE: In order to obtain credit for this course students must achieve a minimum of 57% or a 5.

Professionalism

1. Attendance - Students will be responsible for lectures delivered, assigned readings, and for any announcements that will be made in class. If a student is unable to attend a particular class, it will be her/his responsibility to find out what was missed. For optimal learning and readiness for class participation, students are expected to attend class regularly (no less than 80% attendance) and should read the assigned chapter and articles before coming to class on the dates indicated on the class schedule.
2. Assignments must be submitted ON or BEFORE the date they are due. Late assignments will be penalized at a rate of 5% per day. For example an assignment graded at 75% would be credited 70% after one day late, 65% after two days, etc.
3. Exams - Students unable to write an exam on the scheduled date and time must contact the instructor BEFORE THE EXAM stating reasons for not writing. Should there be one or more students excused from writing on the scheduled date, the instructor will schedule ONE alternate writing date. If the student fails to contact the instructor before the exam or fails to write the exam on the alternate date, a mark of 0 will be given for the exam.

4. Extensions - We all have responsibilities in addition to our academic commitments. Occasionally these responsibilities make it very difficult to meet specific deadlines. The instructor will consider requests for extensions without penalty ONLY if the student makes his/her needs known PRIOR to the due date.
5. Student Conduct – Please familiarize yourself with pages 36 to 40 of the Grande Prairie Regional College 2002-2003 Calendar

Important Dates

October 17	Learning Journal due
October 24	Mid-term Exam
November 21	Listening to Families Project due
December 5	Final Exam

Assignments

Value: 15%

Learning Journal

Due: October 17, 2002

Introduction

Your Learning Journal is a diary. In it, talk to yourself about this course and your unique experiences with your own family. Reflect and record impressions as well as note questions and discoveries as you work. Family history, career plans, study habits, and communication skills are all appropriate material for your journal. Any feelings or personal experiences that you wish to include are relevant. This journal will be shared only with your course instructor. As well as ample space for unstructured notes, your Learning Journal includes structured activities to guide your thinking.

Purpose

Learning is an interactive, dynamic process. Increased self-awareness is vital in your future work as a rehabilitation practitioner. In order to develop more self-awareness, you must be able to pause in your work and reflect. What are you thinking? What are you feeling? What do you intend to do in this situation?

Assignment Requirement

You are required to complete six of twelve activities (see attached guidelines). A successful journal will consist of frequent, thoughtful self-reflection.

Note: Sometimes reflecting on the past brings up buried but not forgotten issues or problems. If one surfaces, professional counseling is available. Ask your instructor to refer you to a counselor if you discover an unresolved issue from the past.

Value: 25%

Listening To Families Project

Due: November 21, 2002

Introduction

Identify a family (by October 17) with a member having an exceptionality and arrange an opportunity to listen to their family story. Use the Parent Survey (Seligman pg. 263) and a combination of The Family Interview (Seligman pg. 266) and interview questions developed in class, to facilitate the family's telling their story. This information will then be used to develop an Individual Family Support Plan (Seligman pg. 269).

Purpose

The purpose of listening to families is to gain a comprehensive view of their perspective of their strengths, preferences, and needs as a basis for providing personalized and relevant family support.

Project Requirement

Prepare a 10 page, typewritten report integrating family-systems information from your conversation based on the six major needs or concerns.

- | | |
|---------------------|---------------------|
| 1. Information | 2. Intervention |
| 3. Formal support | 4. Informal support |
| 5. Material support | 6. Competing Needs |

Your Individual Family Support Plan will include the above information as well as suggested outcomes. Your paper must be in A.P.A. format - refer to: The Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 5th. Ed. and include a signed copy of the informed consent form. Refer to the attached marking guide for more information.

Value: 5%

Participation

Students will be given a maximum of 5% for participation in class. Students will identify and determine the criteria used to assess participation. This will occur in conjunction with the instructor during the first class.