EVALUATIONS:

Written assignments for this course emphasize synthesis of ideas from a sociological standpoint, and the best questions you can think of to advance that synthesis. Analysis does not mean just reporting what others have said on a topic. Important as this is, other authors` ideas or conclusions are valuable because they add insight or specific details that help you to ask questions about the topic you have selected. Essays for me are philosophical inquiries that are advanced through your and others` investigations. Deciding what questions are worth raising is an important part of analysis. Conclusions can be valuable but aren't obligatory for any of my assignments.

How your grade is calculated?

Assignment 1: 'Advocacy' Essay Weight: 33.3%
Assignment 2: Museum Presentation Weight: 33.3%
Final Take-Home Assignment: 'Analytical' Essay Weight: 33.4%

The following illustrates the determination of how a final course grade is calculated:

Task	Grade	Score	Final score & Grade
Multiple Choice	В	3.0
Exam
Analytical Essay	B-	2.7
Final Exam	B+	3.3
Assignment
			(3.0+2.7+3.3)/3=3.00=B*

Advocacy Essay: Due Date: February 1

Although this is called an Advocacy Essay, never forget all assignments for me are meant to be analytical. This one however, allows for a probing commentary on any aspect of social life, whether from a 'conformity' or a 'dissenting' perspective. It must not be a rant, a mere opinion piece, and it requires research. Two academic sources are the minimum required.

Museum Presentations: Due Dates TBA

Presentations will be sometime during the official exam period.

These will be group presentations to the class, comprised of 3 - 5 people. The mark will be assigned collectively for group presentations but members of each group will evaluate each other's contribution to presentation based on a brief questionnaire I will hand out to you. These will not be part of my assessment of the presentation, but will be considered by me when thinking of a bonus mark for you.

For this assignment you will consider yourselves curators of a museum exhibition. The topic of the exhibition is entirely your choice, but you should think about its theme and layout presentation to me and to the rest of the class. A minimum of 10 items must be displayed. You will explain to your audience the ideas underlying the theme and layout. After this phase of the presentation is over, the class and I will leave the room and you will rearrange the same 10 items. When we return you will follow the same process, this time with a different explanation.

This course will emphasize the instability and arbitrary characteristics of our beliefs, morality, judgments, and practises. Therefore the significance and meaning(s) of your exhibit from a conformist and/or deviant perspective, and the logic of its display, must be openly addressed. You should not just persuade us of your interpretation.

Final Exam Analytical Essay: Due Date TBA

What we call deviant behaviour is based on the assumption it is the unusual or strange or the unexpected that require explanation or theorizing. This essay requires you to do the opposite. You will discuss an aspect of Canadian society that you interpret through art or articles, books or other materials you have read; films or shows you have watched, social events current in the minds of many, etc. In this essay you will analyze the message(s) of conformity in how this aspect is depicted and explained. Then you will discuss why people might respond un-conformingly to what is portrayed. Rather than discuss how and why we may 'deviate', you will discuss how and why we may conform. Minimum length is 1200 words.

You must go beyond one small quote. Or a line or two from a source. An in-depth discussion of the source-works is expected, and how they assist your analysis. This doesn't mean they must guide you to a conclusion. I am interested in how they help the process of your analysis.

Grammar is important to communicating precise meaning. Therefore, while it will not be valued as highly as content, it will be evaluated and therefore can affect your mark.

*ALL WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS ARE SUBJECT TO LATENESS PENALTIES OF ONE GRADE LEVEL PER CALENDAR DAY BEYOND THE DUE DATE. A PENALTY WILL ALSO BE APPLIED FOR

INSUFFICIENT LENGTH AND NOT SENDING WRITTEN WORK TO ME AS EXPLAINED IN THIS OUTLINE:

Discussion Bonus Mark:

Every person in the course may (but not necessarily will), receive a bonus mark based on a combination of the frequency and quality of the participation. Discussion postings to a Moodle discussion forum also will be considered class participation. You will be eligible for a bonus mark only if you display commitment to the course by reading the books and completing all written assignments. Although attendance is not relevant to the regular assignments for the course, it is important to your eligibility for a bonus mark. Eligibility for the bonus is nullified if you are absent for more than 1 class.
